Genius. Everyone has it. Everyone.

You may think success comes from inspiration or hard work. Sometimes luck. The right timing.

But none of these are the source of your best performance. Your Genius is.

Discover your Genius at The Leveraging Genius Conference, and tap in to the thinking that drives top performance and dramatic results.

A Nearly Impossible Challenge

The World Needs Genius

What's needed in today's complex and competitive marketplace is something nearly impossible—the ability to deliver great leadership and business results in any circumstance, day after day. The demand to deliver on many fronts challenges our leadership. It is more and more imperative to be exceptional and bring the exceptional out in others all the time.

If we knew the source of our greatest performance, if we knew precisely how we were thinking when we were most successful, what could be possible? How much better equipped would we be to meet the challenges we face?

Genius. Everyone Has It.

After studying the source of extraordinary performance for many years, we discovered a kind of thinking leaders are engaged in when they are at the top of their game—seeing things with greatest clarity, making important decisions effectively and with confidence, and inspiring those around them—all the things that result in their most exceptional performance and results.

We call this a person's Genius.

Tapping Into Genius

The Leveraging Genius Conference immerses CEOs and senior executives in a disciplined and inspiring process to discover their Genius.

Over the course of a week, leaders learn to identify and harness the power of their own and others' Genius thinking in a way that can be used over and over. Applying Genius to their greatest business challenges sets them up for immediate and long-term benefits for years to come.

Discovering Genius gives leaders an edge, a new pathway to deliver top performance and dramatic results. This kind of thinking can be activated in any leader. Genius expands a leader's capability to consistently win in the marketplace and fulfill the greatest possible futures they can envision for themselves, their teams, their organizations, and the world beyond.

Accessing and leveraging the best in people can make or break a company's performance and ability to be competitive. It is as important as knowledge, information, and expertise.

The background of the page is a dense pattern of overlapping circles in various shades of teal, ranging from light to dark. A single, bright yellow circle is positioned in the middle-right area, standing out from the teal palette. The text is white and positioned in the upper left quadrant.

Tapping Into the Exceptional

Leverage Genius to engage in larger initiatives and outcomes for your business

Executives discover, share, and maximize Genius in ways that change their business and their leadership forever.

An Undeniable Competitive Advantage

The background of the slide is a dark teal color. It features a series of overlapping circles. The largest circle is a medium teal color and is centered in the lower half of the slide. Inside this circle is a smaller circle of a lighter teal shade, which is also centered. Inside that is an even smaller circle of a very light teal shade, centered as well. At the very center of all these circles is a small, solid bright yellow circle. The overall effect is a sense of depth and focus, with the yellow circle being the most prominent element.

Benefits For Your Organization

Shared mindset of possibility and optimism to achieve extraordinary organizational performance

Breakthrough in cross-organizational teams working together, resulting in innovative solutions that were previously unavailable

Resolve to capitalize on everyone's most brilliant thinking, and freedom to hold each other accountable to go beyond what is expected

Ease and speed of decision-making, especially when addressing complex business issues

Benefits For Your Team

Heightened ability to predict whether people will deliver business goals and commitments

Capability to instantly change the trajectory of any individual's performance and have everyone operate at their best

Deeper appreciation for, and ability to leverage, the contribution of every team member

New access to developing people rapidly—well beyond managing, advising, or teaching them what to do

Benefits For Yourself

Ability to solve complex problems and unresolved issues by using Genius to reliably create new and innovative approaches

Capability to meet marketplace challenges with your best leadership, on demand, all the time

Confidence to always lead with your most powerful mindset, creating a distinct shift in performance

Deep insight into the conditions that give your best and worst performance

Since 2003, executives have reported these benefits from attending The Leveraging Genius Conference.
